

Editing for Style and Readability

When?

March 25, 2021, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Description

Time to pick up your pen (or point your cursor) and test your editing skills. We'll be working with a series of government and business texts in this seminar along with the first drafts of their English translations. Our goal: spot weaknesses and identify possible improvements. You will receive the texts in advance so that you can come prepared to learn!

Recognized hours: 3 hrs.

Trainer: Grant Hamilton, Certified Translator

A certified translator and graduate of Laval University, Grant Hamilton owns and manages Anglocom, a Quebec City-based agency. Grant is a regular workshop presenter for OTTIAQ and other translation organizations. In 2009, the American Translators Association honored him with its Alicia Gordon Award for Word Artistry in Translation. For six years he taught French-to-English advertising adaptation as part of the translation certificate program at New York University and today regularly organizes training conferences for translators. Grant's commitment to education and training is also apparent on his Twitter account, @anglais, which offers twice-daily English writing and translation tips to thousands of followers.
